At Leung Tsao, a Christian who wanted to save his house, was stabbed, and an infidel, who had been poured over his body and set on fire while he was still breathing."

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The War office has received a dispatch from Lord Roberts dated Pretoria, August 4, which says: "Lord Alington Lewis has been released by the Boers. Only two officers remain prisoners. 'Commandant Oliver has managed to escape to the hills in the vicinity of Bethlehem on the 2nd inst. He has informed General Bruce Hamilton that he does not consider himself bound by General Pringle's offer of surrender and that his force intends to continue the war. He has taken up a position between Harrismith and the Orange river, and the situation is becoming more serious. The Boers are using soft-nosed bullets. Pringle captured by General Ian Hamilton saw that only soft-nosed bullets are now served out to the Boers, hence the wounds of our men are very serious. I am protesting on this matter and protesting to General Botha.'"

CHAFFEE ENCOUNTERS DIFFICULTIES.

Neither the War nor the Navy departments made public any dispatches during the day, officials of both departments announcing that no dispatches of public interest had been received. That General Chaffee is encountering difficulties that are proving serious to the United States in general, the debarcation of troops and cavalry horses is being accomplished with the utmost difficulty. It is said that the big transports can approach the landing at Taku no nearer than 100 miles from the shore. The water is so shallow that the big transports are forced to be far out in the gulf. This necessitates the use of lighters for the transportation to the shore of both men and horses, making the debarcation a considerable and laborious task.

Reported Suicide of Li Hung Chang.

There seems to be no truth in the report. The officials why the great Chinese diplomat should take his own life, which in their minds would be a deplorable event. One of the officials suggested the possibility that he has suffered an attack of apoplexy or other sudden illness incident to old age, but confidence was expressed that the report of his suicide was untrue.

BACK FROM FROZEN NORTH

Day and night were sadly overturned. At first we didn't know when to get to bed and it was rather difficult to sleep with the sun shining so as to make it as light as day at midnight. The last boats are scheduled to leave Nome City October 15. Then there will be eight months of winter and the people who remain in the camp will be ice bound and shut off entirely from communication with the outside world for that period of time.

Marked Drouth This Season.

"This season has been an exceptional one, because of the absence of rain. Usually during the summer months it rains every day, more or less, but prior to our departure there had been but one rainy day. This interfered largely with mining operations, because the placer can be worked only by means of water and its absence was seriously felt."

When we first struck the camp there was a good deal of lawlessness and fights.

"When we first struck the camp there was a good deal of lawlessness and fights. There were frequent outbreaks. Since then, however, United States troops have come in and are preserving order strictly. At present the wages for laborers and miners are $10 a day, but the large number of idle men is likely to bring down the rate of pay very markedly before winter. Prices are high corresponding to the wages paid. A breakfast of ham and eggs costs $1. Bread was at first 50 cents a loaf, but a stiff competition on it sealed the price down to three loaves for a quarter of a dollar."

Development Has Been Delayed.

"Outside of the few larger claims, owned by the principal and original locators, I look for little development in the Nome region before next season. Previous to July there were no claims in the district and nearly every claim has been jumped and jumped and has all kinds of owners asserting right to possession. A United States commissioner is now located at Nome City and these disputed titles will now go through a siege of litigation and the right of ownership will probably be established before the beginning of next season."
